Seeking members for Stakeholder Reference Group for New Land Registry - Plan

Do you have something to say about the development of Landgate's New Land Registry Plan system (NLR-P)?

Here's your chance.

Landgate is establishing a Stakeholder Reference Group to provide on-going input and feedback over the course of the New Land Registry Plan project with respect to:

- implementation options
- sharing of implementation best practices, lessons learned and tools
- Landgate updates on project status and upcoming activities
- Providing updates from members on any relevant work that is being undertaken.

We are seeking representatives from large and small firms within the cadastral surveying industry.

As a member of the reference group, you will need to commit to participating in a monthly teleconference and accepting occasional visits from the project team. Landgate also expects you to be one of the first to use new NLR features as they are delivered and to provide feedback.

If all this interests you, we want you to apply.
